CHAPTER I'S NEWSLETTER

January 2015

BOB AND BECKY'S PAGE

With heavy hearts we write this newsletter article- with the loss of 2 of our chapter members in December- Jim Yoxheimer and Audene Zimmerman. Jim participated in the chapter several years back with his wife Flossie who also has passed away. They might not have been known to our more recent members. Audene will surely be missed at our gatherings and other events. Our thoughts and prayers go out to George Zimmerman and family and the Yoxheimer family. We want to say "Thanks" again to our staff and members for a great 2014 year. We sure had a great Christmas supper, thanks everyone for our gifts and special thanks goes out to Shorty and Jean for the Christmas baskets made for the women. Hope everyone had a good time, I know we sure had good food and a good time! Well, the weather this time of year is quite different than this time last year, but I am sure we are going to get our share of cold and snow in the near future. The staff was able to get together and set up most of the ride schedule for 2015. There could be some changes made in the future, if there is anybody who would like to offer up a good place to ride, please feel free to pass it on to us or Bob Campbell and we will see if we can accommodate it. Speaking of the ride schedule, the last thing on our ride schedule for 2014 was a dinner ride to Iron Pony on Dec.18th-good turn-out with 22 members. Thanks Cherry Hair for setting up the arrangements. I believe he called them and then got there early to give them a heads up".

Don't forget about Cabin Fever at Deer Creek Lodge in Mt. Sterling, Ohio. The date is February 5-7 and you must be pre-registered before January 20th. Check the flyer for the early bird entry contest. There is no registration on site, must be pre-registered.

Be sure and check out the 2015 ride schedule for the Upcoming Events:

- January 6 Dinner at Green Leaf Restaurant Wooster meet there at 6:30
- January 10 Chapter gathering at Ryan's
- February 5-7 Cabin Fever
- February 14 Chapter gathering at Ryan's Wayne Wolf will be presenting a co-rider seminar and bowling after gathering
- February 21 Spaghetti Warehouse in Akron 6:00 at restaurant or 5:00 All Seasons

I believe that is all we are going to write for now, be sure and read through the ride schedule and we hope everyone has a happy & prosperous New Year!!!

Have fun on your runs- "Ohio Rides-Join Us For The Journey"

AUDENE T. ZIMMERMAN

Audene T. Zimmerman, 81, of Medina passed away Dec. 21, 2014. She was born in Chippewa Lake, Ohio on Aug. 4, 1933 to the late Forest and Alda (Thomas) Carlton. Audene held many jobs during her lifetime, working at Westfield Co., Medina Hospital, and retiring from Cloverleaf School System as a cafeteria manager. Audene loved to travel and was a member of the Goldwing Road Riders Association. She will be greatly missed.

RON'S RIDER EDUCATION PAGE

Leaning/Turning are NOT Equivalent

Push Right - GO Right

By: James R. Davis

I think I have not made a compelling case for recognizing that leaning and turning are NOT synonymous.

This is especially troubling to me as it relates to people who are convinced that BODY lean angle can be used to steer a moving motorcycle - especially, again, bicycle riders. When you lean your BODY right the motorcycle MUST lean to the left! (It is how you lift a dragging peg off the ground, after all.) If your mind is convinced that leaning (your body) away from a potential accident is the way to avoid that accident you end up with the tragedy of my lady friend who did just that and (combined with target fixation) caused her to steer right into a head-on with a car and nearly cost her her left leg.

If leaning (both your body and the bike) invariably means turning then how can you explain how you handle crosswinds - the bike/body lean into the wind while the bike continues in a straight line if you simply counter-steer that straight line.

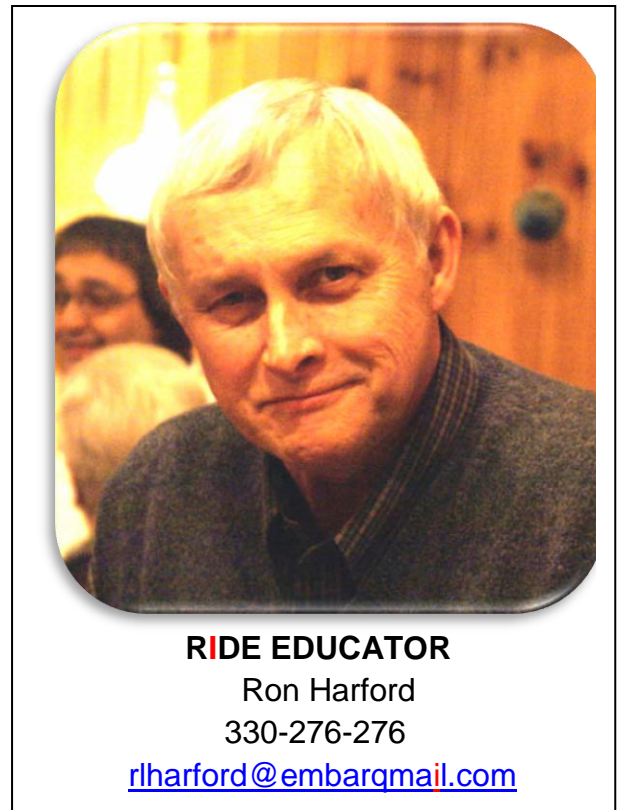

THROW AWAY the concept that leaning causes a change of direction!!! A change of direction changes the lean. More correctly, turning causes centrifugal force which, in turn causes leaning. Leaning does not cause centrifugal force, without which no turning is occurring.

Let's see if this makes the concepts clearer. Here is a diagram that on the left shows a motorcycle that is about to drag a peg in a turn and on the right it shows what happens if the motorcyclist leans INTO the turn. (It lifts the peg off the ground.)

The solid black line is the lean angle of the combined motorcycle and rider in that turn. Note that that line remains EXACTLY where it was when the rider leans in one direction while the bike itself leans in the opposite direction. The motorcycle maintains exactly the same course through that turn despite being leaned farther away from its apex and the same would be true if the rider had leaned away from the turn resulting in the motorcycle leaning farther into it.

The speed and radius of the turn establishes the lean angle of that black line! You CANNOT change the direction of travel by changing the lean angle but if you change the direction of the turn, the lean angle will change.

NANCY'S PAGE

Greetings dear Goldwing friends: Her we are closing out another year and ringing in a new. We had a late gathering in November, then the next week was Thanksgiving of which I'm hoping that all of you enjoyed with family and or friends..... WOW the next week, the chapter celebrated our annual Christmas dinner. I've been told that as always a great time was had. A "special" THANK YOU goes to Jean and Shorty for putting together the Christmas baskets. And then we also had our last dinner outing of which was enjoyed by many, thanks Cherryhair for making final plans.

In these passing several weeks we've had a few illnesses, recuperating and sadness. The next week after the Christmas party Toot Edwards was in the hospital of which we're happy to report she's doing much better. Had word Chuck Copley a former member had some health problems and at this time is at Smithville Western nursing Home, also a former member Jim Yoxheimer passed -- there was no service at this time but his son will let us know when a memorial will be in the spring. Audene Zimmerman had her hip surgery, rehab therapy, was home and doing really good until a sudden illness took her from us.....she will deeply missed. George was extremely appreciative of all who shared their condolences, even our friends of many years from Illinois, Butch and Bert Hamilton. Our thought's and prayer's are with the Yoxheimer and Zimmerman families.

On the brighter side -- everyone have a prosperous NEW YEAR as our many activities will be starting -- Chapter I gathering the 10th of Jan. and be sure to make plans to attend Cabin Fever coming up the 6th - 8th of Feb at Deer Creek State Park. The theme is "movies"!

Until then -- travel safely.....be it around the corner or on a winter venture out of state.
